

GOING THE EXTRA SQUARE MILE!

Introducing the SEND Ranges booklet to parents and carers
A guide for educational settings to support the early identification of needs and how these are met

We want the City of London to be the best possible place for all children and young people to grow up and thrive

The SEND Ranges is a resource for staff in all educational settings working with children and young people, 0-25 years. The SEND Ranges uses best practice to assess the needs of children and young people. It was developed to meet the SEND Code of Practice (2015) and the Department for Education's SEND Improvement Plan (spring 2023).

It addresses:

- The early identification of special educational needs and disabilities (SEND).
- How these needs can be assessed.
- How the curriculum can be adapted to meet these needs.
- The resources needed, including staff.

The SEND Ranges focuses on the four areas of needs identified in the SEND Code of Practice:

- Communication and interaction.
- Cognition and learning.
- Social, emotional and mental health.
- Sensory and/or physical needs.

It includes guidance on preparing your child for adulthood from the earliest years.

This document includes what should be 'ordinarily available' within all mainstream educational settings.

“Ordinarily available” means the provision or support provided to meet your child's needs, through the settings agreed funding and resource arrangements.

You can access the SEND Ranges book and have your say about the ideas within it by emailing:

EEYService@cityoflondon.gov.uk

Or download it from the website here:

<https://www.fis.cityoflondon.gov.uk/practitioners/send-hub/send-ranges-and-provision-mapping>